

Presentation Technical Data

Although it may seem hard, Giano* (Janus) is a comfortable chair and very functional, designed by Mitzi Bollani to adequately support the spine, so as to avoid the negative consequences of bad posture. Moreover, the form gives elasticity to the material, allowing a slight rocking motion that makes the chair very comfortable.

The multi-directionality is another of its features: Janus allows you to sit comfortably in both the classical position, and in other directions.

Used outdoor it offers great flexibility over the traditional bench: it is a single seat which allows a private location, but at the same time, promotes conversation, as you can turn to the other person sitting comfortably.

The particular shape of the backrest provides support for a laptop, the space immediately under the seat can be used to store a briefcase, folder, or books. The space above the pedestal, allows you to store and maintain under control a backpack, a bag without taking up extra space.

Despite its weight (30 kilograms), Janus is a extremely comfortable and practical seat for the home. The indoor version is in fact enhanced by a cushion that is placed in the shelf under the seat, so that it can be extracted and used as appropriate. The indoor version is also equipped with pads under the pedestal, which allow you to drag it effortlessly.

*Giano (Janus)* is the god of beginnings, tangible and intangible, and is one of the oldest and most important gods of Roman religion, Latin and Italic. He received the gift from the god Saturn to see both the past and the future, the origin of his two-faced representation.*
